

Case study

Royal National Hotel

The largest hotel in The Imperial Hotel London Group, and in the UK, the Royal National in the Bloomsbury area of London, has recently embarked on an ambitious refurbishment programme. Trevillion Interiors, a leading international design practice supplying architectural interior design solutions for both new build and refurbishments is overseeing the work on the hotel's 1,630 guest rooms and public spaces.

Frances Blackham, Design Director at Trevillion said, "We were seeking an affordable wall panel solution for hotel guestroom shower enclosures as requested by our client who was keen to maintain a four-star hotel experience without the usual on-going maintenance issues associated with tiled bathroom walls. The Spapanel product provided not only a commercially practical solution but with the benefits of good aesthetics as aspired by our design team."

From the wide variety of colours and textures offered by Spapanel, Arctic Stone from the Classic Collection was chosen. This was used above the bath, behind the WC, and around the vanity area. The 2400x1200mm panels were supplied with the discreet Hydrolock® connection, creating a completely watertight grout-free expanse of wall covering that's quick and easy to clean.

Additionally, the public washrooms were fitted out in Neutral Twill Plex from the Spapanel Heritage Range.

A major consideration in choosing Spapanel was the relative speed of installation and the avoidance of mess and noise associated with traditional tiling options. This is especially important as the hotel remains open for business whilst the works are carried out.

Manufactured in the UK using sustainable FSC certified materials, Spapanel can be fitted 30% quicker than traditional tiles. Customers also have the assurance of Spapanel's 15 year warranty.

Speaking about the project, Thomas Lloyd, Branch Manager, Travis Perkins Watford commented, "Spapanel have been very accommodating and delivered a good service for the branch and my customer. The project has gone smoothly so far and the end client is very pleased with the results."

With 280 rooms having been upgraded to date, Spapanel has delivered the panels in batches that matched the contractor's schedule, and this meant that a set number of rooms were able to be remodelled with the minimum of disruption to the day-to-day business of the hotel.
